

JACK DEAN & COMPANY

JEREMIAH

A new gig theatre epic about Britain's forgotten revolution.

JOIN THE UPRISING

On 9 June 1817 Jeremiah Brandreth assembles a crew of malcontents in a pub near Nottingham. Their plan is to march on London, overthrow the government, wipe out the National Debt and end poverty forever. What Jeremiah doesn't know is that there is a spy in his ranks with other ideas...
Featuring an original score and live band, Jeremiah tells the incredible true story of the much misunderstood Luddite rebellion.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- As a piece of 'gig theatre' the show will appeal to audiences who might not often attend theatre but enjoy seeing live music, especially local musicians or events in intimate venues.
- The performance illuminates a period of history with major contemporary relevance, but not one that is often spoken about. Using rap and live music, the show makes the material accessible to a modern audience.
- Hit shows like 'Hamilton' have shown that the combination of contemporary styles and historical stories can have major popular appeal.
- Given the level of research that has gone into the show, it may also appeal to historical societies, history buffs and schools teaching the Industrial Revolution in their curriculum.
- Marketing Pack and detailed audience research available on request
